

Biography – Eric Russell, CIA, CGAP,CGMS

Eric Russell is a regulatory compliance specialist providing management consulting and grants and contract management consulting services to public sector entities both within the United States and abroad. He specializes in federal grants and contracts, audit readiness and response, asset management, and public financial management. During the course of his 15-year career, Eric has served as a Deputy Finance Director for the City of Columbus (OH), a Senior Manager for Crowe LLP leading public sector audit, consulting, business development, diversity, and people development matters, and a budget and management analyst for a large municipal government. Eric has been responsible for and led more than 100 financial and compliance audits conducted on behalf of Offices of Inspectors General, numerous forensic analysis and risk management/assessment engagements, and internal audit activities.

Eric currently serves as President of the Board of Directors of the National Grants Management Association and is also a member of the Thompson Grants Advisory Board. He is an alumnus of The Ohio State University's John Glenn College of Public Affairs and of Stetson University's School of Business Administration.